DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER-1904

A HARD GUY.
"Beware me, I'm a man of steel,"
Said angry Mr. Kemper;
"I'm on my mettle, and I feel
That I shall lose my temper."

ST. PATRICK SCHOOL.

The patrons and pupils of St. Patrick school will rejoice on learning of the return to this city of the Sisters of St. Francis as teachers in the parochial schools. There will be no change this year in the teachers of the ordinary branches, which considering the past successes of these sisters, will be a cause of congratulation to all interested in the schools of this community. To keep abreast of the most advanced nations of the teaching profession, all of these sisters for the past six weeks have been close students at one of the finest normal schools in the country, presided over by the most eminent professors of a noted Chicago university.

The head of the musical department of the St. Patrick school this year will be Sister Marcella, whose fame in several northern cities as a teacher of music is well established. Her valuable leadership in orchestra and choral work wherever she has taught has proven much to the advantage of her pupils and the delight of audiences in their public appearances.

SUES FOR DIVORCE.

Tuesday afternoon in Circuit Court Clerk James B. Key's office, Emma Wilson filed suit asking for a divorce from Dorsey Wilson. The petition says that they were married in this state October 20, 1913, and that they lived as man and wife until April, 1915, when without sufficient reason the defendant left her. The paper also states that the defendant is an able-bodied man working on the Steamer Greenland as engineer; that he led her to believe that he would live with her if she would move to Newport and this she did, losing a good position by doing so. When she got the plaintiff to Newport again he again abandoned her, leaving her penniless. She asks that the defendant be made to give her alimony to the amount of $20 monthly and that she be permitted to take her maiden name, Emma Jeanson, again.

Mrs. Gordon Gilmore and daughter, Mrs. Bovee D. Core, have returned and are in their new apartment at 18 West Third street, after spending the summer in the east, at Virginia Beach, Richmond and Norfolk, Va. Mr. Gilmore joined his family at Virginia Beach for two weeks and returned home with them.

UNUSUAL

ACTIVITY IS NOTED AMONG PRIZE CONTENDERS IN GREAT COMBINED CONTEST—SATURDAY, AUGUST 28, IS BIGGEST DAY.

Only three days are left in which candidates in the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger automobile campaign may avail themselves of the club offer in which 75,000 extra votes are given to those who secure either old or new subscriptions to the Daily Bulletin or Public Ledger. These subscriptions may run for any period from four months. This excellent offer will enable many candidates to make substantial additions to their number of votes for the 75,000 votes are given in addition to the regular votes. Contestants in every part of the Daily Bulletin and Public Ledger territory are taking advantage of the opportunity, while candidates just starting work can easily place themselves on a par with the leaders because of this offer. The subscriptions must be sent to the Campaign Manager before 9 o'clock Saturday evening, August 28.

The importance of being earnest in everything one does, whether it is at work or play, in order to achieve the most gratifying results is an exemplary idea that fits nicely into the policy that candidates in the rapidly growing Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger contest can adopt to advantage. Hazardous methods lead a person on and on, and though one is seemingly accomplishing things, one never attains an ultimate end.

Many opportunities are presented to gain votes in this campaign. Thousands can be secured with only a clip of the shears; thousands more added by a little industry—the securing of subscriptions to the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger, and by taking advantage of the offer that appears at this time.

The publication of the list of candidates in this paper yesterday morning disclosed the fact that nearly every contestant is realizing the value of being earnest. It is so in everything we do, and will be a pre-eminent feature in the activities of the young women throughout the state of Kentucky, whom an equal chance is afforded to win one of the two automobiles.

Be earnest in your search for votes. Every single one of them counts.

If you have not secured a subscription so far, use the first subscription blank appearing in this paper as soon as you have secured the initial one. The importance of the first subscription should not be overlooked, for it means much.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harding and little daughter, Mary, have returned from a delightful visit to Chautauqua, N. Y., Niagara Falls and other places of interest.

Hon. J. N. Kehoe is in Washington, D. C., on a business trip.

COLONELS WIN AGAIN

TAKES SEVEN-INNING CONTEST FROM COBBLEBS BY THE SCORE OF 7 TO 3.

Tuesday was Ladies' Day at the Maysville ball park, and as usual on Ladies' Day, the local team won, trouncing the Cobblers by the score of 7 to 3.

Winnie French was on the mound for the Colonels and what Winnie did to the opposition was a shame. He allowed the boys from the River City but four measly bingles and made eight of them would-be hitters curse the atmosphere. He also was one of the leaders at the bat, getting two hits out of three times up. In this department he was ably assisted by Kelly and Tinnin, who each tapped the pellet two times. Emmer was a whirlwind on the pads, getting three clean steals.

Ferguson, who was the man on the mound for the Portsmouth bunch, was tapped for twelve safeties, every one on the Maysville team getting a hit or more. The score:

BASEBALL NOTES.

Tuesday's win made the ninth straight for "Our Boys."

Don't forget that Thursday is Tag Day. Have you been tagged yet?

Portsmouth is the attraction again this afternoon. Game called at 3:15 o'clock.

Bally Sharman, the Cincinnati Post wonder, bally twiced. In all, French struck out 8 of the visitors.

Elmer Brown or Winchell will do the twirling for the Colonels today, while Test will probably be the victim for the visitors.

Tinnin is certainly hitting long and hard these days when hits are needed.

His three-bagger Tuesday scored two ahead of him.

Manager Spencer and his crew tried to do enough stalling to keep the game from reaching the required four and a half innings, but the rain delayed too long.

Manager Devore is still on the sick list, but DeBerry keeps the boys hustling all the time. However, we would not mind seeing Josh's smiling countenance back again.

Johnson, the Portsmouth catcher, who has been out of the game with a split hand, got back into the game Tuesday, and played a good game, considering the fact that he still has a pretty sore paw.

Manager Ches. Spencer of the Cobs, was injured in the early part of the game by being hit with a ball and was forced to retire shortly before the Umps called the game. Dougherty went to left field and Jacobus played first.

SOCIETY NEWS.

G. Smoot. After several hours of play the guests were served delightful refreshments.

JAPAN TO AID RUSSIA IN PROSECUTING WAR.

TOKIO, August 25.—The Kokumin Shimbun says:

Premier Okuma states that Japan has decided to give greater assistance to Russia to prosecute the war. He could not discuss details, but allowed it to be understood that this assistance would take the form of the forwarding of greater supplies of munitions.

"Count Okuma emphasizes the impracticability and impossibility of dispatching troops to Europe, but points out that the great advance in the capacity of the Japanese manufacture munitions will prove of great help to the allies."

Japan To Send Delegates.

The premier said Japan plans to send delegates to the peace conference, although it is not expected to extend her sphere of influence to Europe.

"Japan wants Europe to recognize Japan's supremacy in the Orient," he said.

The Associated Press learns that Japan has decided to employ all available governmental and private resources for increasing the output of munitions for the allies, particularly Russia.

The Japanese government believes the time has arrived for more concerted action against the enemies of Japan and her allies.

FORTRESS LIES MASS OF RUINS.

WARSAW, August 25.—The fortress of Novogorodsk lies in ruins. The Germans entered the heart of the great Russian stronghold from the right. During the night the Associated Press correspondent had witnessed the impressive spectacle of the terrific assault which led to the fall of the fortress.

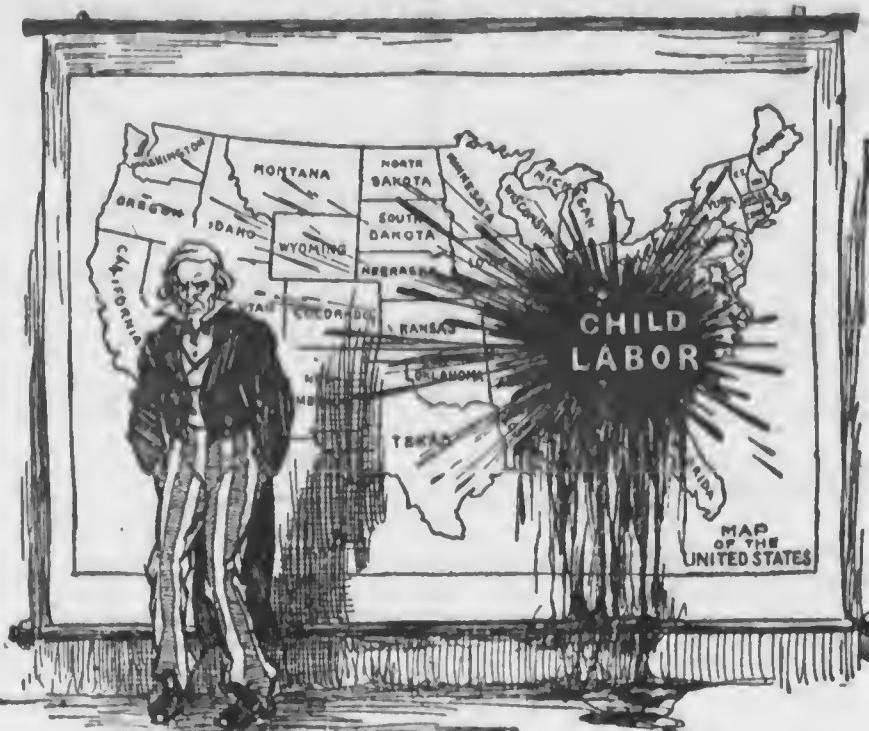

From a point to the southwest of the Vistula it seemed as if brief flashes of lightning were constantly hanging over the great ring of fort. There was a constant rain of exploding shell, searchlights moved from point to point and magazines exploded at brief intervals, rockets whizzed into the air and the thunder of cannon was continuous.

Shortly before 11 o'clock sheets of flame sprang into the air from the northern front indicating that one of the forts had been blown up. Soon afterward a second fort exploded, the bombardment continued however, with undiminished violence as the Russians expended their last efforts to save the citadel upon the strength of which they had pinned their hopes. The final opposition was from the southerly forts.

15,925 AUTOS IN KENTUCKY—INCREASE OF MORE THAN FOUR THOUSAND LICENSES IN ONE YEAR.

Frankfort, Ky., August 21.—Since the first of January, 15,925 automobile licenses have been issued by Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Thomas Pyars, 4,168 more than were issued during the entire year of 1914. All old licenses have expired and those now being issued are to delinquents or to owners of new machines. What proportion of the increase represents sales for the present year it is difficult to determine accurately, but applications for licensees continue to come in large numbers, 25 being received in one day, 14 for renewals and 11 for new machines. Motorcycle licenses to date number 1,185.

COTTON CONTRABAND DECLARATION WILL CAUSE REDRAFTING OF NOTE.

WASHINGTON, August 25.—The new American note to Great Britain on interference with neutral trade will probably be redrafted because of the British order making cotton contraband.

The note had virtually been completed. It will now be altered and probably will treat at length the question of the validity under international law of Great Britain's latest action.

While there is no intention to abandon the claim for payment for cotton seized prior to the British order, these cases now have a different status and a complete record of this phase of the dispute can be prepared and presented. Cases under the contraband order must all go before British prize courts and there will be no informal negotiations as there have been in connection with previous seizures.

The American note, it is understood, will lodge formal protest against the placing of cotton on the contraband list and a lengthy diplomatic exchange probably will follow.

While the new formal note is in preparation, State Department officials are continuing their informal efforts to secure release of the millions of dollars worth of German and Austrian goods consigned to the United States now being held at Rotterdam and other neutral ports as a result of the British order in council.

WASHINGTON IS STILL WAITING FOR THE FACTS.

WASHINGTON, August 25.—Four days have passed since a German submarine sunk the White Star liner Arabic, with the loss of two American lives, and the American government still is without the detailed and official information necessary to shape its course.

The only notable development today was a break in the official silence which has surrounded the White House. Secretary Tumulty, after conferring with President Wilson, issued this statement:

"As soon as all the facts regarding the Arabic are ascertained, our course of action will be determined."

Secretary Lansing declared that all the information so far in the hands of the State Department was fragmentary and that details still were being sought.

Ambassador Page at London, who had forwarded by mail a detailed statement, including some affidavits of American survivors, was instructed to send immediately a summary by cable.

While the situation still was a waiting one, official quarters reflected the strain which grows as no word comes from the German government.

CAPTAIN OF ARABIC IS POSITIVE TORPEDO CAUSED DESTRUCTION.

LIVERPOOL, August 25.—Captain William Finch, of the sunken White Star liner steamer Arabic, tonight gave the Associated Press a statement bearing on press reports that the Germans claimed there was no proof that the Arabic had been sunk by a German submarine and that she might have met with disaster by running into a British mine.

"There is not the slightest doubt that the Arabic was sunk by a torpedo," said Captain Finch. "Neither is there the slightest doubt that it was fired at the Arabic deliberately. It is quite true that we never saw any submarine or periscope, but I saw the white streak made by the passage of the torpedo through the water—a white streak that commenced with air bubbles in the water three hundred yards from us at the point where it was discharged at us."

"There was no mistaking of the cause of that white streak because it ended in a torpedo entering the ship and causing the explosion which sank the vessel. I was not alone in seeing it. The chief officer, the second officer and many passengers saw it. No one can doubt for a moment that it was deliberately fired at the Arabic. Those aboard the submarine evidently saw us and got into a position ready to release their torpedo."

The suggestion that a mine caused the explosion is perfectly absurd. I repeat that there was only one thing that sent the Arabic to the bottom. That was torpedo, which left a clear white mark in the water 300 yards in length."

VERA CRUZ AND MEXICO CITY ARE AGAIN QUIET.

WASHINGTON, August 25.—Rear Admiral McLean, commanding the American naval forces in Mexican waters, sent a long wireless report to the Navy Department on conditions at Vera Cruz. He said no further anti-foreign demonstrations had occurred since the arrival of the battleships Louisiana and New Hampshire.

The Carranza agency here gave out that the Arabic was still being sought.

Ambassador Page at London, who had forwarded by mail a detailed statement, including some affidavits of American survivors, was instructed to send immediately a summary by cable.

While the situation still was a waiting one, official quarters reflected the strain which grows as no word comes from the German government.

In Mexico City, the dispatches said, quiet prevailed and normal commercial and industrial conditions had been restored. The wireless plant at the capital had been put in complete working order.

SPECIAL FAVORS TO TENNESSEE CANNERS

Amendment to Child Labor Law Passed This Year.

NEED FOR A FEDERAL LAW.

An effort made in New York last winter to grant canneries special favors by permitting them to work their operatives longer hours was strongly condemned by the press throughout the country, and the attempt failed. But no attention was paid to Tennessee when she did the same thing at about the same time. In fact, the National Child Labor Committee regards the Tennessee amendment as far more serious than the New York one would have been since the change in the New York law would not have affected any children under sixteen, while the Tennessee amendment permits children under fourteen to work in canneries and for unlimited hours per day.

"It is strange how many states fail to realize that children are more valuable than fruits and vegetables," said Owen R. Lovejoy, general secretary of the National Child Labor Committee, in commenting on Tennessee's action. "The idea is so common that canning goods is more important than protecting children that we find not only Tennessee, but Delaware, Maryland, Indiana, Maine and Virginia, making special exemptions to their child labor laws for the benefit of canneries, while Mississippi does not regulate them at all. I do not know why the idea should prevail that employment in canneries cannot possibly be harmful to children when the conditions there are usually worse than in factories."

"We feel that the only successful way to meet the canning situation is through the federal law which will be introduced in the next congress and which, if passed, would prohibit the shipment outside the state of canned goods which children under fourteen had helped to manufacture or on which they had worked more than eight hours a day. A letter came to us the other day from a woman who wished to know what variety of canned goods she could buy and feel sure that no children had worked on it. We could not tell her, but we did tell her that if she would help us in passing a federal law she could buy any kind of canned goods with safety."

REGRET EXPRESSED—GERMAN GOVERNMENT OFFERS DEN. MARK BOTH APOLOGY AND COMPENSATION.

LONDON, August 25.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegraph Company from Copenhagen says:

"The German government has expressed regret for the torpedoing and sinking in the North Sea on May 26 of the Danish steamer Betty and announced its willingness to pay compensation for the loss of the steamer."

"It is claimed by Germany that the submarine commander failed to see the mark denoting Danish nationality on the steamer and assumed from the route the vessel was taking that it was going to join the British fleet as an auxiliary cruiser."

The wise man speaks softly. The fool makes a big noise.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

Otto Kahn
On Financial Farm Loans

Every citizen who desires to become capable in business should study banking, and every farmer who wants to see the business of agriculture properly financed should study diligently the financial systems of other industries. All other lines of industry have developed financial facilities adapted to their needs. We have all sorts of financial syndicates authorized by law or custom to deal in a certain line of securities, but in none of these financial channels will farm securities travel without a bonus in the way of an excessive rate of interest or heavy discounts.

The most powerful financial institutions in America are private banks and they are the most important to the financial life of industry. In no line of business does honesty, efficiency and stability make more imperative demands than upon private bankers, whose greatest asset is the confidence of the buying public in his business judgment and integrity. Mr. Otto Kahn of Kuhn, Loeb & Company, when asked to state the relation of the private banker to the business of the nation, said in part:

"One of the most important functions of the private banker is to be the instrument for providing the money needed for the efficient conduct and development of railroads and other industries. He does this by buying securities in bulk from those needing capital, for which purpose he usually associates himself with a large number of other financial houses, great and small, thus forming what is called a syndicate. Having in this way concluded the buying transaction he offers to the public the securities purchased by means of advertising, circularizing and through the facilities of the retail-houses included in the syndicate, many of whom employ traveling salesmen. Of course the banker and the syndicate count on a reasonable profit for their services; on the other hand they run the risk of the securities, which they have definitely bought and paid for at a fixed price, remaining on the hands wholly, or in part, if the public, for one reason or another, should be unwilling to buy them. The selling of securities is a highly specialized trade, requiring much experience, organization, method and scrutiny. This is one of the reasons why corporations do better in offering securities to the public through bankers than if they offered them direct. The willingness of the public to buy depends upon their confidence in the integrity and the judgment of the banker who makes the offer, and a banker who attempts to make the public, or who is deficient in care or judgment, would very soon find himself without customers and, therefore, out of business. In many European countries the functions of the private banker include the placing of bonds secured by farm mortgages. Bonds of this nature are issued in large quantities by mortgage bankers who buy mortgages on farms and other real estate and deposit them as security for their own bonds, which in turn are sold to bankers. It is to be hoped that similar institutions will, in course of time, be created in America, thus placing the farming industry on a par with other important industries in facilities to obtain capital."

Even at best, an excuse is never anything but an excuse.

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE RURAL TEACHER.

Washington, D. C., August 24.—A number of suggestions to help the rural public school teacher in leading his or her pupils to see the direct relation between home life and their school studies are contained in a new publication of the Department of Agriculture. This bulletin, No. 281, entitled "Co-relating Agriculture with the Public School Subjects in the Northern States," contains a plan of work extending from September through the fall, winter and spring to the end of June. Under this plan each pupil is encouraged to undertake some home project; that is to say, some work at home which will extend through a whole season, will be connected with the instruction in agriculture which the pupil receives at school and a record of the results which will be faithfully kept and turned in to the teacher at the conclusion of the project. At school the pupil's exercises in arithmetic, spelling, English, geography, etc., are so directed that the value of these subjects in practical life is made clear. For example, in the language lessons, the pupil may be asked to write out the method which he used in testing milk with a Babcock tester, special emphasis being placed upon the need for making the meaning absolutely clear. In the same way the records obtained from cow testing may be used as exercises in arithmetic and the pupil asked to compute the total yield of butter fat, its money value and the estimated profit from any given dairy herd.

In the supplement of the bulletin is contained a number of sample score cards designed to assist the teacher in rating agricultural exhibits which the pupils should be encouraged to make. The new bulletin is designed especially for rural school teachers in the northern states.

Ninety-five per cent of the children in the Baltimore Truant School have been street workers. Forty-three per cent of the boys in the Maryland State Reform School For Delinquent Boys have been engaged in street work.

A recent pamphlet issued by the National Child Labor Committee states that over 17,000 children under sixteen were reported engaged in mining occupations by the 1910 census of occupations.

If we bad no child labor we should have very much less tuberculosis; we should have very much less alcoholism and fewer diseases of the mind and the nervous system.—Dr. S. Adolphus Knott.

STRIKING GAINS IN CHILD LABOR LAWS

Off Year For Legislation, but Children Not Neglected.

EDUCATION LAWS IN SOUTH.

A new compilation of child labor laws which will be issued shortly by the National Child Labor Committee contains the legislation enacted in 1915. Although this last year was a reactionary one for social welfare legislation, the National Child Labor Committee feels that there were some striking gains in child labor laws.

Two states which have hitherto defied all efforts to raise their standards—Pennsylvania and Alabama—have yielded to the pressure of public opinion. Alabama has a fourteen year limit for all gainful occupations, to go into effect in September, 1916, instead of her former twelve year limit for factories only. A sixteen year limit for dangerous occupations is included in the law, as well as a twelve year limit for boys and an eighteen year limit for girls in street work.

The striking feature of Pennsylvania's new law is the continuation school clause, which requires children of fourteen and fifteen who are regularly employed to attend continuation schools eight hours a week. Other important features are the twenty-one year limit for night messengers, physical examination and the completion of the sixth grade before a work permit can be secured, and the regulation of street work.

Michigan had an unusual experience. The age limit for common gainful occupations was raised from fourteen to fifteen AT THE REQUEST OF THE EMPLOYERS. The bill was drafted and the campaign directed by them. In addition to raising the age limit, it raises the grade which a child must complete before a work permit can be secured from the fourth to the sixth grade.

Compulsory education laws were passed by three southern states. The Florida and South Carolina laws are local option only, but the Texas law is state wide.

California and Iowa strengthened their laws by including provisions for the regulation of street work and the night messenger service. In addition to the street work clause Iowa passed an eight hour day for children under sixteen and strengthened her work permit provisions. A written statement from the employer, saying that he intends to employ the child, is now necessary before a child can secure a work permit. A similar clause was incorporated this year in the Rhode Island law and a street work provision enacted establishing a twelve year limit for boys and a sixteen year limit for girls engaged in selling newspapers or merchandise.

Nevada created the office of labor commissioner to enforce the child labor law, and Wyoming enacted a nine hour day for children under fourteen in all gainful occupations. In fact, there was a gain in every state but one of those which passed laws this year affecting children. Tennessee weakened its law by exempting cannery workers from practically all provisions of the law. But an attempt to repeat the Arkansas law was defeated, so that, on the whole, the National Child Labor Committee feels that the child labor legislation of 1915 represents steady progress.

Ninety-five per cent of the children in the Baltimore Truant School have been street workers. Forty-three per cent of the boys in the Maryland State Reform School For Delinquent Boys have been engaged in street work.

A recent pamphlet issued by the National Child Labor Committee states that over 17,000 children under sixteen were reported engaged in mining occupations by the 1910 census of occupations.

If we bad no child labor we should have very much less tuberculosis; we should have very much less alcoholism and fewer diseases of the mind and the nervous system.—Dr. S. Adolphus Knott.

AMBASSADOR DEPARTS.

ROME, August 25.—Nahib Bey, Turkish ambassador to Italy, with the embassy and the consul in this city, left today for Turkey by way of Switzerland. Marquis Di Garrone, the Italian ambassador at Constantinople, already has left that country.

Heavy clouds of smoke appeared over Zeebrugge, but no fires were visible.

Two large British warships were still off Knocke at 9 o'clock this morning.

Today's German official statement says that a hostile fleet of about forty ships appeared before Zeebrugge and subsequently steamed away to the northwest, which would take them in the direction of England. This is the first report of any naval movements of consequence in the North Sea for a considerable period. The last important naval action in these waters took place January 24, when the German cruiser Blücher was sunk.

CHINESE SACRED HORN NUT.

This Chinese Nut "Linc" grows on a bush under water, and ripens about the time of the feast of the moon. It is said to be sacred, to bring peace and good fortune to all who own them and is the Chinese emblem of good luck.

This wonderful nut looks just like the horns of a steer's head, is about 2 3/4 inches wide, black, gold tipped and fitted with ring for charm. Worn by ladies and gentlemen. Send a dollar bill for one today, as our supply is limited.

NAVAL VICTORY CHEERS ALLIES TO ENTHUSIASM—GERMAN REVERSES IN BALTIMORE MAY CAUSE REARRANGEMENT OF PLANS.

LONDON, August 25.—The German naval reverses in the Gulf of Riga and the Baltic Sea, the German success in occupying the fortress of Ossowitz and a British naval bombardment of the German naval base at Zeebrugge today, furnished a series of new features which temporarily diverted attention from the gravity of the issues growing out of the sinking of the White Star Liner Arable by a German submarine.

The German version of the Itala battle has not yet been given out but the definiteness of the official Russian report on the sinking or crippling of the German battle cruiser Moltke, two other cruisers and eight torpedo boats has sent a wave of enthusiasm throughout the country and dispelled the depression over the Russian retreat on land. Aside from the loss of the German ships, the naval engagement is regarded chiefly important for the strategic effect upon the land operation in the German sweep eastward toward Petrograd which military observers now consider as having been checked and possibly irreparably defeated.

The German center has pressed forward steadily until Prince Leopold of Bavaria is near the Russian new line of defense, but the military observers say that the entire campaign hinged on the vast enveloping movement of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's forces in the north. They had succeeded in pushing for beyond Riga, to Jacobstadt on the Dvina, but the Russians hold on to the Gulf of Riga and of the great naval base of Itala was a continual menace in Von Hindenburg's rear.

This, the military observers say, would have led to a shifting of a number of German capital ships, including the Moltke, from the North Sea to the Baltic with the purpose of controlling Itala and thus protecting a German land advance on Petrograd. The result of the naval battle, as gleaned from the official report, appears definitely to have defeated German objective, according to the observers, who say that aside from the loss of the ships of gulf and the naval base of Itala are still in Russian hands and menace Von Hindenburg's further advance toward Petrograd.

The capture by the Germans of the fortress of Ossowitz gives them another stronghold, only Grodno and Brest-Litovsk remaining in the central section. It also gives them the main point on the railway to Bielsk and Brest-Litovsk.

Special reports from Petrograd indicate that the Russian position at Brest-Litovsk gradually is becoming untenable and that the public is being prepared for its abandonment. Only meager details have been received concerning the British bombardment of the German submarine base at Zeebrugge and neighboring points on the Belgian coast. Berlin reports that forty British ships were engaged in it, but the British admirality as yet has made no statement.

The firing lasted several hours, the German heavy artillery answering the British fire. That there has been French naval activity in the same locality is shown in the Paris official communication, which announces the sinking of German torpedo boat destroyer off Ostend by two French torpedo boats. In the west there have been no notable changes in the battle line.

Because it's the evidence of a Maysville citizen.

Testimony easily investigated.

The strongest endorsement of merit.

The best proof. Read it:

Mrs. Delta Luneford, 228 E. Front St., Maysville, says: "I attribute kidney trouble to a strain. I had sharp, shooting pains through my kidneys and a dragging-down feeling through my hips. I had dull headaches and dizzy spells and often if I had not caught hold of something for support, I would have fallen. I was in that condition for several years, up, one week and in bed the next. I finally began to notice symptoms of dropsy. My feet began to swell and my hands were at times the same way. Finally, I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER Mrs. Luneford said: "Doan's Kidney Pills completely and permanently cured me and I am glad to confirm all I said in their praise before."

HUMANE NOTES.

The Mason County Humane Society is trying hard to get some work done in this city and county. We have almost 100 names on our list of members. But when we advertise a meeting only a half-dozen respond. My friends, if you want this good work to go on you must put your shoulder to the wheel instead of getting inside the coach and being pulled up the hill, for it is an up-hill work we are trying to do.

Some of the most revolting cases of cruelty and neglect are being reported after it is too late to be attended to. Animals starving for water, a horse left in a stable for days simply from carelessness, horses abused and beaten at the dam, one horse has had its eyes put out by its owner and afterward sold. We haven't found the criminal yet.

We need a man to go over the country or right here in our city, who can give a large part of his time to this work, investigating cases and bringing them to the proper authorities, and we need a fund to pay that man.

Will not some one help us by a donation? In New York a wealthy woman started an animal hospital and it is a grand institution. Animals are helped if they are not too much disengaged, and those that can not be helped are put to death with electricity, a painless death.

Mason county is rich. Can not some of her riches be used in a way to bring credit and honor to her citizens? Why not have a children's home and an animal hospital?

Both would be as great a credit to this county as a monument of marble raised to the memory of some honored citizen of the state.

PHARIS TIRES.

Readers of The Ledger will note that Mike Brown, the Square Deal Man, has been appointed exclusive agent of the famous Pharis Packard automobile tires.

Mr. R. W. Pharis, manager of the Pharis Tire & Rubber Company, of Columbus, O., was in Maysville last week looking over the field and while here installed the exclusive agency with Mr. Brown.

The Pharis Company makes an especially good substantial tire, one that stands up under all tests and never goes flat, no matter what conditions it is called upon to work under.

Mr. Brown is to be congratulated upon getting the agency and his tire customers will reap the reward.

Dr. Simpson, the optometrist and manufacturing optician, has found it necessary to employ additional help to take care of his constantly growing business. Miss Kate McCarthy is now helping in the edge grinding and drilling. Miss Gertrude Redmond, who has been the doctor's assistant for the last four years, has been advanced to the more difficult part of the work.

Miss Ruth Utterhart, of Cincinnati, arrived Saturday for a week's visit with Miss Julia McDaniel, of Third street.

The plurality of A. O. Stanley for the Democratic nomination for Governor, with Russell county's vote still put, is 38,000.
